

Name the three subatomic particles that an atom is composed of

- protons
- newtrons
- electrons

What two elements make up water molecules

Hydrogyn and oxygen.

Why is water polar

Water is polar becuase the oxogyn has more posotive electrons so it attracts more nagative whereas the hydrogyn does not attract as much negative charge. this means that it has a positive and a negative side, these sides are polar.